The County Fair

Before another issue of The Tribune is printed, the county fair will be in full swing. Monday will be the opening day and that day will be devoted largely to entering and placing exhibits. It is expected that by Tuesday morning the greater part of the exhibits will be placed and the big show will be ready for inspection of the public.

The officers are sanguine that this fair both in exhibits and in the line of entertaining features will surpass those of previous years. They base this prediction on the interest shown by farmers, and of course the farmer is the real factor of a successful fair; it is the farmer who makes the exhibit worth while. In gathering the exhibits and preparing them, the farmers have been ably assisted by Mr. Gilman and the officers of the society; and through the efforts of Mr. Gilman the display promises to be in better shape than ever before.

The amusement features this year will be high class, the leading feature being the exhibitions by the aviation corps of the Nebraska National Guard. This corps consists of seventeen aviators, and the part airships play in actual warfare will be demonstrated each of the two days—Wednesday and Thursday. Not only has the corps the airships, but there are motorcycle riders who co-operate on land with the ships in the air; both of which features are now extensively used in the great European war.

These airships will not merely ascend and remain in the air for a few minutes, but instead will go scouting over the section tributary to North Platte, looking for a possible enemy that might be invading North Platte. We shall see the real purpose of an airship in times of war.

In addition to the above there will be concerts by the Gothenburg and North Platte bands, base ball games, rough riding, polo races, pony races, foot races and many other contests. In fact there will be something doing every minute.

The Booster ball team left Wednesday for Eustis to play in the tournament. They made the trip in the Langford, Salisbury, Healey and Lawrence cars. Langford and Healey took the hill route and reached Eustis in the afternoon, Salisbury and Lawrence went east to Cozad thence south, were pulled out of the mud a dozen times and did not arrive at their destination until eleven at night. Five inches of rain fell in the Eustis section Tuesday, but the grounds were in shape to be used Wednesday afternoon.

Buy New Cars

Engineer J. H. Fonda is the owner of a new Buick six and Engineer York Hinman is driving a new seven passenger Chalmers six. Engineers take kindly to autos and well they should; they have as a rule not only plenty of time to enjoy them, but as they are to a large extent mechanics they can look after them properly and a low cost of upkeep results.

Mrs. Oscar Sandall and Mrs. Harry York will leave this week for Palmer, to visit their sister Mrs. Jung for a couple of weeks.
